Looking them Over

JACK KELLY

How is that great American citizen, John Stue Duffer, getting along with his golf these days? He started to swim out on the courses of Canada and the United States in uncounted thousands back in the early '20s, filling the woods with balls and the air with profanity as he came out from a tortured and buffed body.

Now has that sturdy and determined citizen got along in the past two decades, has his game improved, remained the same or has he quit in disgust?

In answer to this intriguing question, we will take the evidence of two Chicago brothers, Otto and Bill Halverson. They are not golfers, neither are they outdoor nor club officials, but they are a pair in answer with authority for they make their living by fishing got out of water hazards around Chicago courses.

He's 50 Per Cent Better

Without the slightest hesitation, the Halversons say that the game of John Duffer, alias the Great Stue, has improved by at least 50 per cent in the past 20 years—because they are finding just half as many balls in the water traps as they did back in the early '20s.

The occupation of the Halversons is a strange and intriguing one. One summer night in 1929 they came across them fishing ball out of a pond in the Lincoln Park course along the Chicago Lake front. A bitter wind was blowing in off Lake Michigan and they were out in the middle of a pond, up to their shoulders in the water, poking away with a basket-shaped rake made from wire mesh. They had flash-lights to help them see, but from time to time one would drop into a hole and have to swim, mashing something to still hold on to rake and light.

I stuck around watching them for half an hour and in that time they fished up at least two hundred balls. They didn't bother counting them—just dumped them into a rummy-bag that was nearly full at that time.

Blue with the cold when they finally came out of the pond, they slipped into a dark thicket of bushes, slipped off their swimming trunks and donned their clothes. They were calling it a day. They stopped at a hotel-stand for steaming coffee and I got them talking.

Found 1,700 in 24 Hours

They told me that on one holiday weekend they found 1,700 balls in 24 hours—their biggest haul. At one course they averaged 1,000 balls a week. They had an agent who gave them $7.50 a hundred for all the balls they turned over to him. At that time they were averaging well over $50 a day, they said.

Last week the Chicago Daily News carried a feature story on these two Halverson brothers and their odd occupation. In it they told about the big haul they used to make from the water hazards on the Lincoln Park course, but lamented that the improvement in the game of John Duffer had cut in half the number of balls they now find compared to their take back 15 years ago.

Golf clubs have also gone to the Halversons for the profits, for they now have to pay from $200 to $400 a season for the privilege of dredging a course's water traps for balls.

Out of the countless thousands of balls the Halversons have found, they have kept only one. It was one they found at the Chicago Golf Club in Wheaton and it must have served some good purpose. Some of the dredges of games—or like him many years at the bottom of the pond. It was found in 1909 and had the date 1892 stamped on the cover—37 years old.

Stengel Tells Why Braves Are Not Happy Gang

BROOKLYN, June 27.—(AP)—Ising ball clubs are seldom happy gangs and Boston Braves are no exception, says Manager Casey Stengel.

A rumor has been going the rounds that a rebellion is brewing among the Braves. Says Stengel: "We have guys who don't like me, and I don't like them. But I don't care. I'm going to win a game with the Dodgers." "So does Brooklyn. Do you suppose two of them are going to make a team?" Stengel said. "I don't know. But I don't care. I'm going to win a game with the Dodgers." "So does Brooklyn. Do you suppose two

All-Star Softball Team to Play Regina Girls Next Week

When the Regina Bombers invade Kingway Park next Thursday night at 7:00 p.m., Edmonton followers of girls' softball will be witnessing one of the finest softball clubs in the country. Edmonton Army and Navy Fats will provide the opposition.

Star Chucker

This is the first time in the history of girls' softball in this city, that a team from another province has played here, and the senior championship club from Regina holds the distinction of leading the Regina City League, and are favored to take the Saskatchewan title again this year.

Coach "Kappy" Kaplan of Regina makes no secret of the fact that his team was organized for the sole purpose of winning the senior championship. Regina, Saskatchewan, and the World title in Chicago. This is a big year, but Kaplan has gone out of players on whom he believes he can depend for results.

HULLS NO-HITTER
From Winnipeg he imported Doris Barr, who is billed as the finest pitcher on the prairies. In a 10 inning game last week she hurled a no-hitter-run free strike, striking out 21 batters, and allowing only one runner as far as first base.

Mary Baker who does the receiving is reputed by sports writers to have seen her perform at the Chicago tournament to be the best other pitcher in the United States. Here then is a battery worth a trip to Regina to see.

SECOND PICKER

Another newcomer to the team is Irene Martin, sister of Frankie Martin, who is a star of the Regina Bombers. She is a right hand pitcher who has made a name for herself in her batting deliveries has had the Regina opposition worried all season. Four other players on that club have come to Regina to add their strength to the Bombers' roster.

There is Joyce Scott and her sister Red Scott from St. John's, Sask. Margaret Jones from Winnipeg, Sask. and Agnes Zurek from Regina, Sask. All the rest are from Regina, but it can be said that Regina has rounded up Regina Stars for the remainder of this year.

ALL-STAR LINEUP

Clare Hollingsworth has announced the lineup for the Regina Bombers. The team will play a local All-Star softball game, being next Thursday night. It is also highly rated as a battery. In checking she features a change of pace ball. Her record, incidentally, is a 10-1 record. She is a sister of Frankie Martin, of the Regina Bombers, recent winners of the Allan Cup.

Available for alternate duty will be Miriam McMillan, Jean Barr, Joan Ward, Vicki Wynnyk, Annabelle Thompson, and two others yet to be named.

DiMaggio Takes Hitting Streak Without Flurry

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP)—The last man to get excited about Joe DiMaggio's sensational hitting streak of 41 consecutive games was Joe himself, but he wants to reach the record of 41 now as much as anybody.

Thursday DiMaggio failed to hit in his first home game at his old ballpark, but he was not discouraged. He said: "I'm going to get it." "I'm going to get it." "I'm going to get it."

Ready For Action

City champion "Shorts" Purcell eliminated Trevor Davies of the Garneau Club 6-2, 7-5 to enter the finals, while Harry Kinloch, out of his club-mate T. Edmunds 6-1, 6-3.

D. Gunn, provincial champion, defeated D. Darrah of Viking 6-1, 6-3 and Walter McIntosh played in top form to beat Roger Waters 4-6, 6-2, 6-4.

MATCH OF DAY
The match of the day was the McIntosh-Waters tussle with numerous rallies and clever court play, both being at the peak of their form. McIntosh's steady work was decidedly accurate and his back hand steady and he should give the provincial champion a real battle today to reach the final.

Edmunds had a poor start against Kinloch, with the latter being the more steady throughout. Davies also put up a good game against Purcell, but the city champion had the necessary power in the punches to win out.

In their men's open doubles match Cameron and Scott got started slowly to catch up with the top lead but they allowed Kinloch and Waters to get away from them and lost out 6-4, 6-8. Purcell and McIntosh won from Hall and Darrah.

DOCHERTY ADVANCES
George Docherty advanced in the McIntosh Cup by defeating L. McManus 6-2, 6-4 and Bruce Sangster played his best tennis of the tournament to turn back D. Darrah.

Miss N. McKay reached the semi-final of the ladies' open by winning over Miss P. Malloy. She dropped the first set 3-6, but took the next two.

In addition to the two semi-final men's singles today, Bruce McManus and L. Nelson play their last night the batters were Dallas who were going to grammar school when he set the present league record of 10 straight victories.

But Snipe was just as crafty, but as speedy and just as effective—that is, for eight innings. In the ninth he faltered. The San Antonio Missionals combined his offerings for five hits and five runs. He managed to finish with an 11-6 victory but the end came none too soon.

"I just gave out," he said as he sat in the dugout while his mate rubbed his arm. "But a couple more nights like that and I'll be ready to go nine innings. You know it's been 15 years since I pitched the 'roast'."

Under league rules Snipe returned as a pitcher because he's been out more than two years. He could use his spittle because he had used that delivery before 1923.

Sent To Chiefs
ST. LOUIS, June 27.—(AP)—Charles Marshall, young pitcher, was optioned Thursday by the Cardinals to Syracuse of the International league, on Monday.

Marshall was brought up from Sacramento as protection when pitching left field for the Cardinals. He played in one inning.

Preparations For Post-War Period Urged

Incidence on the need for preparedness for the post-war period was voiced by Lieut. Col. Lee Neilson, principal Roman Catholic chaplain for Canadian armed forces, on Thursday night. Col. Neilson addressed a meeting of the Knights of Columbus in the club rooms during the evening.

The speaker praised the work being carried on by the Dominion government in making preparations for rehabilitation of returned men, and said that the need for reconstruction of a social value in a prepared way was equally important.

WAR WORK PRAISED

Col. Neilson devoted the greater part of his address to a report on the work of the Knights of Columbus in establishing and sustaining army camps throughout Canada and in England as well.

He said that tremendous work was being done by the war service, particularly the Knights of Columbus, and that the work was very much appreciated by the troops everywhere.

Special tribute was paid by the speaker to the late Dr. Claude Brown, of Ontario, whose death occurred in England a short while ago, and who had devoted much time and energy to his volunteer task as director of Canadian Catholic Army Units. Dr. Brown made a great sacrifice in doing his work, he said.

ARMY CHAPLAIN

Col. Neilson, who was in England for two and a half months, spoke in high terms of the work of the army chaplains. He spoke particularly of Father M. C. O'Neill and Father Joseph Malone of Edmonton, who are overseas, as R.C. chaplains with the Canadian forces.

The people of Britain are the strain of war, he pointed out, and while they are suffering a great deal, they have endless courage and confidence of ultimate victory, he said.

Well-Known City Teacher Retires

Once a teacher of the peace with the Royal North West Mounted Police and for the past 21 years a mathematics teacher at Strathcona High school, Alfred Wade is retiring at the end of this term.

Affectionately known as 'Daddy Wade' to many Strathcona graduates, he came to Canada in 1908 from York, England. He had intended to go on to Australia, but settled in Alberta, teaching at Edworthy. He was born in Yorkshire in 1875 and taught there for 11 years, starting in 1896. In 1910 he came to Edmonton, where he was principal of Edworthy.

In 1918 he went overseas with the 13th Battalion, being transferred to the Canadian Army Pay Corps in England. He returned to Edmonton in 1920 and founded the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment school on Whyte avenue. The same year he joined the staff of Strathcona High.

In 1930 he was president of the Edworthy and Valley Agricultural association, and 1931-32 was chairman of the Edworthy village council.

In 1937 he was president of the Alberta Teachers' association and was on the provincial executive for three years. He was also the Alberta representative on the executive of the Canadian Teachers' Federation.

He plans to live in retirement at the Pacific coast.

Commander Glason, officer commanding, will attend as mourner. The service will be conducted at 3 p.m. from Power and McGarry's chapel by Rev. Canon E. M. Tremblay. Interment will be made in the Edmonton cemetery.

Rotary Voices Pledge To Aid Great Britain

Most impressive scene at the recent Rotary International convention at Denver, Colo., was the standing ovation paid by the 6,000 delegates at the conclusion of the speech made by radio transmission by Thomas Warren, British second vice-president of Rotary International. A "Andy" McCulloch, president of the Edmonton Rotary Club, told members at the weekly luncheon at the Macdonald hotel Thursday.

As the simple and eloquent appeal of the speaker was followed by a plea for American aid the members stood and pledged support to the speaker, Mr. McCulloch stated.

He referred to the various committee meetings held during the convention and told of the opening of the doors of the "Park of the Rockies" which had been conceived through the efforts of a Denver Rotarian.

Mr. McCulloch said the Denver convention was voted in the best that has been held in Rotary's history.

This was the last meeting at which Mr. McCulloch will preside as president, as F. J. Reynolds, recently elected president, will be installed in that office at the next meeting.

Calgary Thinks Daylight Time Federal Matter

City of Calgary has advised the city council of Edmonton, through City Clerk Alfred Russell, that they consider "daylight saving" time a Dominion concern. The Calgary council filed Edmonton's resolution urging that daylight time be instituted in the west. At the same time a letter was received from H. C. D. Howe, federal minister of munitions and supply, stating that the Dominion felt the question was one for municipal decision and action.

Through The Mill

That old English saying that so appropriately describes muddled minds of some—grumpy wife and pound foolish—certainly fits the case of wild damage heard in police court Thursday.

Because of his insistence on getting a 35-cent refund on a room he had occupied briefly, a man must now pay a fine of 55 and costs and $15 damages for two pieces of glass that he smashed in displeasure at the action of the proprietor of the rooming house. If he fails to pay the damages as ordered he must serve 31 days in jail.

According to the story of the landlord, accused checked in for a room for which he paid 75 cents. In about half an hour the lodger decided to vacate, so demanded his money back. After some wrangling the obliging landlord refunded 50 cents, but insisted on retaining a quarter for the time the room had been used. Then, according to evidence, the roomer ran amok and deliberately smashed the glass in the doors of two rooms. Accused admitted demanding the refund but claims he broke the glass while fleeing from the landlord who pursued him with a hammer.

A middle-aged man who pleaded not guilty to vagrancy, was discharged on condition that he leave town in two hours. Detectives swore that accused and a companion were staging a drinking bout in the bush behind a city photo studio. As a result of jail only seven hours when the police picked him up. The law of Canada gives a man 24 hours after getting out of jail before he can be arrested again—the accused claimed.

The court was not aware of any such law.

A young man well known to dangerous driving was sentenced to three months in jail. Police testified accused struck a pedestrian and then drove away before police.

He had admitted drinking beer and then using a license plate illegally on his truck.

Alberta Ready 'Secure' Loans In Housing Act

CALGARY, June 27. — (CP)—While the Alberta government is prepared to "secure" loans under the Dominion Housing Act, it will not repeat existing debt legislation under any circumstances, declared Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., minister of municipal affairs, before the Union of Alberta Municipalities convention, yesterday.

"The government is willing to guarantee the benefits of the Dominion Housing Act to protect the people who are willing to pay their debts but wish to secure their own," Mr. Maynard declared.

PROVINCE OFFER

He said the housing shortage was a serious problem in Alberta and the charges the government was doing nothing to face it were equally serious and could not go unchallenged.

"The provincial government had offered to enter into a tripartite agreement with the loan companies and the federal government which would place all loans under the Dominion Housing Act in a class by themselves and not subject to any debt legislation on the books at present or passed in the future. The agreement would include a clause which would give the Dominion government power to allow any legislation adversely affecting any of the loans," stated Mr. Maynard.

While the province had signified its willingness to enter into such an agreement no action had been taken by the loan companies or the federal authorities, he said.

Mr. Maynard reviewed the regulations conducted by the provincial government in an effort to secure the benefits of the Dominion Housing Act for Alberta and said the mortgage companies have taken the stand they are unwilling to go along under the act until all existing legislation is repealed. This the government is not prepared to do.

PLAN IS FEASIBLE

"It would be possible for the Dominion Housing Act to be operative in Alberta provided the Dominion government and the loan companies were willing to enter the tripartite agreement," declared the speaker.

He said those taking for the repeal of debt legislation overlooked the position of the home of men who had entailed for service with the Canadian forces. Many of these men, he said, had left homes and families in the east. If these men had thought they would return to find they had lost their property and had to go on an empty stomach, many of them would have enlisted," declared Mr. Maynard.

"The people are willing to pay. They want to get out of debt but this will not be possible until the people secure the same return for their work that they were receiving."

Five-Pound Limit Put On Parcels For Great Britain

After Saturday, parcels sent to the United Kingdom, other than those to Canadian soldiers, may not exceed five pounds in weight. Up to now, the maximum for parcels sent to England, other than foodstuffs, has been 20 pounds.

If persons in Canada wish to send parcels larger than five pounds, they may do so, but first arrangements must be made with some responsible organization in the United Kingdom, formed for charitable or similar purposes, to be the recipient of the goods.

A. B. McKinnon, Edmonton postmaster, says that if persons wish to take the chance of sending larger parcels, the risk is entirely their own.

INQUIRY WHEN THE DRAFTS WERE INCURRED, HE SAID.

Mayor J. W. Fry, of Edmonton, chairman, thanked Mr. Maynard for his address and expressed the hope Alberta would soon get the benefits of the housing act for the people.

"Under a tripartite agreement, not having the same privileges as other provinces," he said the United States Mortgage Insurance Co. 100 per cent behind the provincial government in all efforts to solve the housing problem. He did not condemn anyone, but he did condemn anyone who was willing to give and take," he said.

Yukon Southern Uses TCA Hangar

Commencing Saturday, Yukon Southern Air Transport trips will leave from and arrive at the Trans-Canada Air Lines hangar, it was announced Friday by airport officials. This hangar and passenger waiting room will be used until such time as a new administration building is under consideration by city council, is decided.

The company has made this move on account of crowded facilities at No. 1 hangar. Most of the space in the hangar now used for actual servicing of airplanes is taken up for offices, leaving a minimum of space for dispatching passengers and express.

Yukon Southern has made this new arrangement with TCA in order that greater service to the public may be provided for air travelers.

Frederick M. Wood, senior representative for Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, left the city Thursday for Berkeley, California, after conducting a school on servicing of Lockheed Lend-Lease planes for mechanics of Y.S.A.T. He will return in a few months to help an advanced school on the machines.

The ball-tipping custom originated in the age of chivalry, where knable valued the virtues of their opponents as gestures of friendship.
